A Wonderful Christmas

Dear friends of Coppenrath & Spiegelburg.

Are you already curious to see what design our graphic designers have come up with for the coming Christmas season? Whenever the "Christmas Design Presentation" appears in our calendar, we always get very excited. It's an appointment no one wants to miss. Together with the programme managers and our graphic design team, we sit in a room, eyes fixed eagerly on the screen, guided through mood boards, thoughts being shared aloud – until finally the first "real" slide appears. The slide with the new Christmas design.

You can imagine the sense of anticipation in the air. It's almost like Christmas Eve. Not to forget the tension among the designers themselves – how will each design be received? Have expectations been met? Is it too traditional? Too bold? And then comes the first comment – setting the tone. The second follows. Relief. Enthusiasm. "Exactly the right mix!", "Really beautiful!" – but also critical questions such as, "Does 'Let's have a Party' truly reflect the spirit of Christmas?" There are discussions, arguments and everyone finds "their" own Christmas. I'm sure it's the same for you: one colleague is delighted by a decorative Christmas, another falls in love with a romantic one and a third voice calls out from the background, "I love pink!".

We are excited to see which world appeals most to you. We like them all – each of us perhaps favouring one a little more than the others. And that is exactly what we love about it. Because just as we are all different, so too are tastes – ours, yours and those of your customers, whom you know best.

We wish you a wonderful Christmas season already today

Best wishes
 from your Anna Feller Lambert Scher Lousa Holm

& the team of Coppenrath & Spiegelburg's Christmas World
